Project: All on Board

“Having completed our ‘all-encompassing unique mobile inspection vehicle’ and conducted on-site demonstrations, we discovered that more examination equipment was required on board the vehicle as well as rental equipment.

We also needed to improve our internal processes to support this service which required more capital equipment investment.

We then need to develop this new market opportunity with the aid of a new focused marketing campaign.

The renewable energy sector is one of our main target industries.

Other market sectors that we now intend to target is the aerospace and the automotive industry.

We were confident that targeted the above industry sectors would create significantly more business.

As a result of the above project we have already gained new business from the renewable energy sector.”
